IGNORANCE

Who knows nothing fears nothing

ATTITUDE

ATTITUDE- A manner of thinking, feeling, or behavior that reflects a state of mind or disposition that can lead to hazardous behavior.

5 Attitudes that can lead to hazardous behavior and in turn ruin your safety culture

1. Anti-authority- is when the worker feels that he or she is being forced by an authority to comply with a rules, procedure or use of equipment

2. Impulsivity- Impulsivity is a hazardous attitude where a person doesn't stop to think about the consequences of not wearing PPE or following safety procedures.

5 attitudes continued

3. Invulnerability-

takes place with individuals who do not believe it can happen to them. It is difficult for a human being to imagine his or her hand being burned, cut, mangled, or smashed. When an injury takes place the individual will say, "I can't believe it happened!"

4. Macho

Macho is serious condition usually attributed to the male species and is evidenced when a person thinks he is too tough or too smart to get hurt. Macho workers get hurt because their macho attitude is a barrier to learning

5. Resignation - is a hazardous attitude because the worker resigns to trying to make it a safer workplace: He or she says eventually my number will come up.
